Northstar Customer FAQ

Common product, delivery, return, warranty, and account questions

This FAQ consolidates common questions. Live account, stock, payment, and shipment information is not available in the demo.

Products

What products do you sell?

The sample catalogue includes a laptop, mouse, keyboard, USB-C hub, monitor, headphones, webcam, portable SSD, laptop backpack, and USB-C charger.

Do you sell smartphones?

Smartphones are not listed in the current sample catalogue. Do not claim that the real business never sells them.

Can you confirm technical specifications?

Only specifications explicitly included in the catalogue can be confirmed. For missing details such as processor, RAM, storage configuration, ports, refresh rate, or battery life, say the catalogue does not specify them.

Delivery

How long does standard delivery take?

Standard delivery is estimated at 3 to 5 business days after dispatch. Processing normally takes 1 to 2 business days after payment confirmation.

Can you track my order?

No. The demo application is not connected to an order or carrier system. Customers should use the tracking link sent after dispatch or contact support.

Returns and warranty

What is the return period?

Eligible products may be returned within 30 calendar days of purchase, in their original condition.

How long is the HP EliteBook warranty?

The HP EliteBook Laptop has a listed warranty period of 1 year.

Can you approve a refund or warranty claim?

No. The store team must inspect and approve individual cases.

Payments and privacy

Can I send card details in chat?

No. Never send card numbers, CVV, passwords, PINs, or one-time codes in chat. Use a secure checkout.

Can you check my order status?

No. The demo assistant has no access to personal order records.

Response rules

- Answer the exact question first, using short, simple, friendly sentences.
- Never show document names, source references, chunk IDs, similarity scores, or retrieval details to customers.
- Do not invent details. If the answer is unavailable, say so plainly and suggest contacting support.
- Never claim to have booked, cancelled, refunded, shipped, or updated anything.
